February 20, 2013

Subject: Open Congratulations to Dr. Keith Mitchell and the New National Party

Dear Dr. Mitchell,

On behalf of the Executive Committee, and all affiliates of the Grenada Football Association, let me extend our sincerest congratulations to the New National Party on winning the General Elections thus receiving the mandate to govern for the next five years.

Your party's landslide victory has given you the mandate to leave a legacy that would be remembered for generations to come. On this note, as President of the Grenada Football Association, I wish to express our desire to work closely with the Government, Ministry of Sports, Ministry of Education, Ministry of Health and the Ministry of Social Development in promoting youth development and healthy lifestyles through the glorious game of football.

We look forward to the facilitating of progressive community Grassroots programs, support for our initiatives and the realization of many international football events in the near future to the advancement of football throughout Petite Martinique, Carriacou and Grenada.

Through government support, we look forward to the realization of many of our programs; which includes the FIFA Goal Project and Special Project. Once more we wish you and your government all the best.

Yours truly,

Cheney Joseph
President, GFA

FIFA and GFA Officials pay visit to new Sports Minister

A delegation of football officials paid a courtesy call to Sports Minister Honourable Emmalin Pierre three days after taking office.

The delegation led by GFA's President, Cheney Joseph and FIFA Development Officer Howard McIntosh included Finance Committee Chairman, Ken Martin Whiteman and Technical Director, Lester Smith.

The FIFA and GFA officials updated the Minister on the activities of the association as well as the FIFA Goal Project which was approved in September. In addition to a new special project to be undertaken in Fond, St. Patrick's.

Also in attendance at the meeting were Senator Sheldon Scott, Permanent Secretary in the Ministry of Sports, Veda Bruno-Victor and Director of Sports, Conrad Francis.

Both the Ministry of Sports officials and the football officials have agreed to work closely in the future with the view of ensuring there is a synchronized development plan for the sport.

Minister Pierre expressed gratitude to the delegation and pledged to do all in her capacity to ensure football is developed on the island. "I am very passionate about youth and communities and I am hoping when called upon, we can get assistance from FIFA and GFA," she said.

"It is very refreshing to have such a delegation and so much positive things being discussed on my first official meeting since taking office, but I am sure that FIFA and GFA will work closely with the government and people of Grenada to bring more benefits to the sport," Minister Pierre stated.

"I am most certain, our Prime Minister will support anything that provides an opportunity for the youth of this country to be engaged in a positive way, and therefore I do not see any difficulties in the government assisting with lands for this project," the minister reiterated.

The GFA is seeking government's participation in both the Goal Project and the FIFA Special Project and is hopeful that work will commence before the end of the first quarter.

St. George's University Sports Department seeks affiliation with GFA

St. George's University has applied for membership of the Grenada Football Association (GFA).

The Department of Athletics, Sports and Recreation at St. George's University in a recent application letter to the GFA, advised of the university's mandate to raise the profile of sports throughout Grenada.

In its letter written to the association, Dean of Athletics and Director of Athletics, Sports and Recreation, George Mc Guire, informed the association of the university's desire to join the GFA as an affiliate in order to expand the number of opportunities offered to its students for sports, exercise sciences and recreation.

"We are therefore seeking affiliate membership with the GFA to pursue our common interests and to expand opportunities for professional proficiency and Coaching Certificate Programs in Football," the letter stated.

"Working in collaboration with WINDREF'S Sports for Health Program, under the directorship of Dr. Calum MacPherson, SGU is committed to find the resources to develop dynamic programs in health and wellness, and to achieve sustainable growth and development of soccer in Grenada, the aim being to impact higher standards throughout the nation," Mc Guire stated in his application.

St. George's University recently hosted a very successful meeting at WINDREF, at which representatives of GFA, including the President, Mr. Cheney Joseph, and Mr. Lester Smith, Technical Director, assisted the SGU delegation in fine-tuning a project proposal aimed at strengthening the capabilities of our coaches in the island.

It is hoped that a Coaching Certificate Program will be launched soon at St. George's University, which will attract the attention of all soccer coaches throughout the nation.

The Grenada Football Association welcomes such a partnership with such a prestigious institution as St. George's University.

The school currently has over four thousand students enrolled in its various programs offering degrees in science, medicine, business and veterinary science.

Stakeholders and Government Officials discuss Fond Playing Field Project

Over twenty two persons including GFA affiliates, stakeholders and government officials attended a meeting at the Fond playing field in St. Patrick's, to discuss the Grenada Football Association's proposal to FIFA, for confirmation of a special project.

The project "Fond Playing Field Upgrade" which was submitted by the GFA for approval, includes the lighting of the playing field and repairs to the existing pavilion, as well as the erection of additional seating arrangements.

The Government officials present included Member of Parliament for St. Patrick's West, Honourable Anthony Boatswain, Parliamentary Representative for St. Patrick's East, Honourable Clifton Paul, Senator Kenny Lalsingh, Minister for Implementation and Senator Sheldon Scott from the Ministry of Youth, Sports and Ecclesiastic Relations.

All Government officials pledged their full support for the Fond Playing Field Project and applauded the leadership of the GFA in identifying St. Patrick's as a priority area for development.

Honourable Anthony Boatswain, in his remarks to the gathering, stated his appreciation to see the opportunity for the development of the playing field and pavilion as well as encouraged the persons in attendance to work speedily to see the implementation of this project.

"I am more than happy to see we can commence work soon on this project, since it was always part of our political agenda to see the people of St. Patrick's receive further support for youth development and sports," said Minister Boatswain, who is also Minister for Education. "We must not let this opportunity slip away from us and therefore, I want to encourage all to work assiduously in seeing the implementation," he said.

Also speaking to the gathering were Senators Sheldon Scott and Kenny Lalsingh, who both gave high praise to the vision of the GFA Executive Committee.

GFA's President who also spoke to the gathering reiterated his desire to see more development for St. Patrick's which is considered one of the less developed parishes on the island. Joseph said he is happy to see this project becoming a reality and promised the people of St. Patrick's will see more opportunities in the coming years.

It was agreed that a master plan will be developed for the area, but immediate focus will be on repairs to the pavilion, additional seating accommodation, access for disabled persons, the construction of a media booth and improvement of the playing surface.

St. Patrick's is home to seven GFA clubs and back to back champions of the GFA Premier League, Hard Rock FC who also has a number of players on the national youth, men's and women's teams.

The parish is also considered one of the most impoverished areas on the island. The main source of employment for persons in the area has been agriculture, fishing and construction.

Windward Island Football Tournament to restart in St. Vincent

After many years of dormancy, the Windward Island Football Association (WIFA) will be restarting the annual tournament from April 22nd to 29th in St. Vincent. This decision came following previous meetings of the presidents of the four Windward Islands, Dominica, Grenada, St. Lucia and St. Vincent which was convened in Castries, St. Lucia last year.

According to WIFA and St. Vincent President Venold Coombs, the tournament seeks to provide additional competition opportunities for the islands that have had little opportunities to expose their talents.

Over the past years the four islands battled off in many fierce competitions thus producing many talented players who were highly rated in the region.

While WIFA is hoping to attract sponsorships for the tournament, it has fortunately received support from CONCACAF who will assist with some of the competition's needs to come to its fruition.

On behalf of CONCACAF, President Jeffrey Webb is providing the Confederation's support for the tournament.

"We must assist the smaller islands to further develop their game," said Webb, who believes that by offering support in the sub-region the Confederation is opening an avenue for the less exposed regions to reach the standards of the larger territories.

"The field needs leveling, but with more opportunities to compete we are providing the chance to see small but powerful nations compete against some of our bigger members in the future," Webb said.

The last WIFA tournament was held in Grenada in which the home team won.

To Sponsor Happy Hill United FC

The club secured a positive response from Ford's local agent McIntyre Brothers.

Marketing Manager for Ford, Ms. Alicia McIntyre broke the good news in February after she held preliminary discussions with President of the GFA, Cheney Joseph.

Ms. McIntyre said her company has always given to the community but has been looking for another avenue to branch out their commitment further. "Ford is committed to quality and we have been reliably informed that the brand that Happy Hill United FC portrays represent a true reflection of what Ford and McIntyre Brothers represents," she said.

Happy Hill who won the rights to play Premier League football in 2013 has been having a run of success in the past few years.

Happy Hill United FC will now be "Ford Happy Hill United FC"

The club also won the GFA Second Division title in 2011 playing unbeaten. Having won, the club was promoted to the First Division last year.

The club again had an impressive year winning the title and securing promotion to the Premier League for the 2013 season.

Coach of Happy Hill United FC Kelvin

Hector on receiving the news of his club being chosen says, "the club and players are all excited about this wonderful news."

"We have been playing good football all along and we have been looking for someone to come on board to assist us with our development program. We are now even happier that we can now represent McIntyre Brothers and Ford with distinction in GFA football."

The GFA wishes Happy Hill United FC and McIntyre Brothers, agent for Ford all the best in this new alliance and look forward to many more companies providing sponsorship to clubs and the association programs.

GFA to attend CFU and CONCACAF Congress in Panama

Grenada Football Association will be represented by three officials attending the XXXVI CFU Ordinary Congress to be held on Thursday, April 18, and the XXXVIII CONCACAF Congress on Friday, April 19, 2013 in Panama City, Panama respectively.

The purpose of these Congress will be to review the work of both the CFU and CONCACAF and to assess the effectiveness in ensuring the achievement of its objectives as a facet of sustainable regional development.

Member Associations will be updated on what has been accomplished during the period under review. This year's Ordinary Congress will focus significantly on the footballing, technical, institutional, and administrative components of the CFU and CONCACAF's work.

Representatives from Forward Sports, Traffic Sports (USA) Inc., Digicel, Interpol and the Jamaica Anti-Doping Commission will be in attendance to engage Member Associations in various aspects of football administration and development during the Congress.

Grenada Football Association has tabled a motion to have an amendment to the CFU's Statutes to include the terms of reference for all standing committees included in the body of the constitution.

Grenada's delegation will be headed by its President, Cheney Joseph and includes Vice President Roderick Griffith and Technical Director, Lester Smith.

German Football Association Coaching Course

Grenada Football Association (GFA) has received an invitation from the German Football Association (DFB) to have one representative participate in a three week International Coaching Course from April 15th to May 3rd 2013.

The invitation specified that the candidate must have already completed a lower level course organised by the German Football Federation through the Federal Foreign Office and attained a pass mark. As a result, the GFA's representative will be Jerry Alexis who completed the course in 2009.

The (DFB) will organise a three-week course in April of this year for football coaches conducted at the Sportschule

Hennef near Bonn on behalf of the Federal Foreign Office. This course will include fifty percent theory and will be held in the English language. The content will be equivalent to the DFB-A-License.

The philosophy of this course provides that the best qualified participants of the three past International Coaching Courses (DFB-B-Licence) who have been specially invited to attend. Following the end of the course the coaches will receive a certificate confirming their participation.

The GFA is also securing financial assistance from the Federal Foreign Office of Germany and the German Football Federation. Assistance includes room and board during the course.

Participants attending are holders of at least the B-Licence and possess a great amount of experience in the field of coaching.

Grenadians attend FIFA FUTURO III

Two of Grenada's top officials George Phillip and Ernest Richardson participated in the FIFA FUTURO III refereeing course in Antigua.

The course focused on referee technical instructors and referee fitness instructors from CFU member associations.

Other member associations participating were: Antigua and Barbuda, St. Kitts and Nevis, Anguilla, Aruba, Bermuda, British Virgin Islands, Curacao, Dominica, Montserrat, St. Lucia, St. Vincent & the Grenadines, Turks and Caicos and US Virgin Islands.

Dedicated to the Core

A fourth form student at the Westmoreland Secondary School, Christian Hadeed literally comes alive when the formulation of the word "football" is mentioned.

His natural ability was evident at just the tender age of four when his parents had him enrolled in the sport. Eleven years later, Hadeed proudly represents his country on the Under-17 National Team.

Christian is so happy to be the lone player representing his school at a national level, but also believes his Alma Mater is now also respected at the national secondary schools competition. "When we played in the past, everyone was coming to beat us badly, we have improved a lot and now Westmoreland is a respected team in the Right Start competition," he said.

"It gives me great pleasure to be a part of the National team; I hope I can continue to represent my country at higher levels." Hadeed is not only on top of his game but also excels at school. "My life right now involves school and my extra circular activities. I'm determined to make football a career and hopefully play for a club in England when I'm finished with my schooling."

The eldest of two siblings, Hadeed's sister is also involved in the sport. "We spend a lot of time together practicing and playing one versus one matches at home. I try to teach her what I know in the sport and it is fun seeing her follow some of my moves."

Manchester United is Christian Hadeed's favorite, his core values of the sport stems from how the Man U team portrays themselves. "I love everything about the team, their winning mentality, they never give up, even when it's only a couple minutes remaining, you can expect them to come back and win.. I just like how they play."

For Christian Hadeed, football is a way of life. The love of this sport lives deep within his very existence as this passion and nationalism is shown for the number one sport in the world, Football.

Shernika Peters

Shernika Peters was the recipient of a pair of boots from the Grenada Football Association for her outstanding performance at the J.W Fletcher Catholic Secondary School Fun Day. Shernika scored four goals for her school house, Dominic in the female football event on the day.

Match Commissioners' Workshop a huge success

Over forty (40) participants took part in the first ever Grenada Football Association Match Commissioners' Workshop at the National Stadium.

The course which was facilitated by FIFA Match Commissioner and Instructor, Barbadian Patrick Beckles covered all areas of the function of a Match Commissioner. The two day course saw participants receiving information on the expectations of a Match Commissioner, the responsibilities and requirements.

The course which ran over a weekend had participants from all over the island representing clubs and organisations involved in the sport.

At the opening ceremony, Director of Sports, Conrad Francis welcomed the initiative of the GFA to implement such a course and encouraged participants to make full use of the opportunities afforded to them.

Francis in his address to the participants urged them to be willing to give service to the GFA and other organisations that may call upon them to render this service. "I have seen the GFA's performance in the past few months and I am very happy with the work they are doing," the former middle distance runner said.

"What the GFA is doing at this time must be commended, their Grassroots Program is a huge success as well as their emphasis on refereeing, Women's Football and Youth Football," Francis stated.

"I urge you to practice what you have learnt and be ready to participate in events such as the Secondary Schools Right Start Football Competition when it comes around," said the Ministry of Sports official.

Facilitator Patrick Beckles who has a wealth of experience under his belt not only commended the GFA for a timely and worthy program, he advised the participants they are agents of change in Grenada's football.

"By completing this workshop, you have now positioned yourself to become Match Commissioners for the GFA, Caribbean Football Union, CONCACAF and FIFA," Beckles told the participants.

GFA's President, Cheney Joseph commended the participants at the opening and closing ceremony and promised to work assiduously to secure opportunities for each participant.

Joseph stated, "the GFA will ensure that the 2013 Premier League season will see many of you get an opportunity to perform as Match Commissioners and we encourage you to remember not to compromise on the game,"

The Match Commissioners' Workshop ran from March 3-4.

Petite Martinique secures the eyes of CONCACAF

PETITE MARTINIQUE, Grenada - Petite Martinique is one of three islands, including Carriacou and Grenada, that comprise the country of Grenada. Even with a population of less than 1000 inhabitants, mainly fishermen and traders, the passion for football shines brightly.

"PM" -- to which the island is commonly referred -- has just one playing field, which is only one-third the size of a regulation football pitch and it borders the seafront. Most days, children can be seen surrounding the perimeter in hopes of "taking a sweat." Eager to learn, some mimic the older boys as they play, absorbing everything they observe.

Keishroy DeRoche, a youth and sports officer in the Ministry of Sports has become a household name on the island for supporting football and its development. His work with the Petite Martinique Under-19 and senior teams, as well as the Carriacou Primary Schools Tournament, is testament to his dedication.

Thanks to his love for sport and community, DeRoche's tireless efforts were ultimately rewarded.

"The new GFA (Grenada Football Association) administration showed interest by assisting with the Grassroots program, they afforded me training in the FIFA Grassroots program, provided equipment and paid a visit," said DeRoche. "This delegation included two of the most important persons in GFA, the president and technical director. They made this journey over the rough seas. We are already seeing the benefits of this assistance."

Cheney Joseph, President of the GFA, and Lester Smith, GFA Technical Director, travelled in December to Petite Martinique, which is only accessible by boat over difficult waters. They realized that it was time for the GFA to establish a Grassroots Program on the island.

DeRoche and a number of young players were there to greet the GFA delegation upon its arrival. Joseph and Smith came with a sizeable delivery of much-needed football equipment.

"I feel great that we can finally give meaning to grassroots football in Grenada," said Joseph. "You plant a seed and you want to see it germinate."

"We expect to see the rewards of Petite Martinique grassroots in a few years. They will benefit from our gesture, but we must continue to support football on our sister islands in a meaningful way and under my administration that support will be given."

The GFA provided balls, bibs, markers and cones, so that proper training sessions could be conducted every Saturday with the PM players; all in the hope that someday one among them may become Grenada's next football star.

"Despite the limited space on the island to play football, we must not kill the aspiration of the many kids in Carriacou and Petite Martinique who dream of playing the game," Joseph added. "The desire to play and the recent support we have been giving, shows how confident we are in their future development."

"All they need is to know that someone cares and is willing to support. The GFA will continue to provide such support. We are planting seeds all over the island with our grassroots program and the benefits of this planting will be seen in a few years' time."

Wayne James appointed to CONCACAF Standing Committee

GFA Executive Committee member, Wayne James has been appointed a member of the Associated Competitions (Olympics) Committee.

James who has been a member of the past two executives in responding to the good news said, "It is quite an honour to be appointed to serve in such a prestigious organization as CONCACAF and as a member of the Associated Competitions (Olympics) Committee."

"I am very humbled by this appointment to serve under the distinguish leadership of the President, Jeffery Webb and the rest of his Executive Committee," James stated.

"I am looking forward with much anticipation to contribute in fulfilling the role of the committee along with the other members to ensure the further development of football in our region and the success of CONCACAF," he said.

The Gouyave native has represented his island as a youth player in the late 1980's and has contributed to many other organizations in Grenada including serving as a Director of Grenada Chamber of Industry and Commerce and is recently the Manager of Jonas Browne & Hubbard Building Supplies division.

Grenada Football Association congratulates James on his new appointment.

Whole Grain Matters

Whole grains make up the entire grain, including the bran, germ, and innermost part of the kernel, the endosperm. Each portion of the grain or seed plays an important role in nutrition. The only way to be sure you are eating whole grain is by checking the ingredients list. The first ingredient should say the name of the grain to ensure that is actually a grain as opposed to wheat germ, "bran," "enriched flour," or "fortified flour."

Some examples of whole grain include; whole wheat bread, whole rye, brown rice, popcorn, whole wheat pasta and oatmeal.

Grains provide such nutritional benefits that their recommended servings are 3-5 times a day. Whole grains also contribute to the reduction of colon cancer, hypertension, abdominal fat and the risk of heart disease.

Including whole grains into your diet is an easy start by:

- Replacing white bread, white rice and white pasta with a whole grain variety
- Using whole grain crackers or bread crumbs in recipes
- Add whole wheat flour or oatmeal when making cookies or other sweets
- Have popcorn - with little or no added salt and butter - as a snack.
